TRAINED TEACHERS: A PERSISTENT SHORTAGE

Source: UNESCO Institute for Statistics Database
TRAINED TEACHERS: A PERSISTENT SHORTAGE

Senegal: pupil to teacher ratio 32:1, pupil to trained teacher ratio 70:1
Central African Republic: pupil to teacher ratio 80:1, pupil to trained teacher ratio 138:1
Chad: pupil to teacher ratio 61:1, pupil to trained teacher ratio 101:1
Guinea Bissau: pupil to teacher ratio 52:1, pupil to trained teacher ratio 133:1
Mali: pupil to teacher ratio 48:1, pupil to trained teacher ratio 93:1
Bangladesh: pupil to teacher ratio 40:1, pupil to trained teacher ratio 70:1

HOW MANY TEACHERS ARE NEEDED TO ACHIEVE UNIVERSAL PRIMARY EDUCATION?

BY 2015
- 2.6m replacements for attrition
- 1.4m new posts needed

BY 2030
- 23.9m replacements for attrition
- 3.4m new posts needed

= 4 million

= 27.3 million

Source: UNESCO Institute for Statistics Database
SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA NEEDS THE MOST NEW TEACHERS

More than 7 in 10 countries don’t have enough teachers today

Shortages will get worse with population growth

6.2 million more teachers are needed by 2030

of which 2.3 million are new positions to be created

Today 2030

Source: UNESCO Institute for Statistics Database